

INTRODUCING

Anthony G

I was 19 when I had an accident on my BMX bike. I'd been riding bikes my whole life, and fallen thousands of times. At first, I thought this time was no different, but this time round I damaged my spinal cord.

If someone asked me how I'd deal with being quadriplegic before the accident I would have said that I wouldn't cope at all. But when you have to cope, you cope. The only other option is to stay in bed and live a life of misery. I can't and won't choose that option.

I'm a fairly typical guy; I love cars, bikes and trucks. My Dad and I work on fixing up cars, and one of our goals is to build a drag car.

These days I also play wheelchair rugby with a local team and really enjoy being active and part of the team.

I have a pet snake and pet lizards, and I dabble in photography. In my spare time I volunteer with the CFA, which is something I really enjoy.
